Continuing Education Requirements Flyer for Arizona Insurance Licensees

Can I satisfy CE requirements with self-study courses? You can use self-study courses if you pass a monitored examination after completing the course. Monitoring ensures that the person who gets the CE credit is the same person who passed the examination. A proctor must monitor the exam. A proctor is either:

- An Arizona-licensed insurance producer appointed by the provider director.
- A person appointed by the provider director who is in the business of administering education or examinations.
